As a commonwealth country, Malaysia practices common law system as practiced in the United Kingdom. As such, SEGi collaborates with the University of London (UK) to offer the Bachelor of Laws (LLB) programme, as well as offering the SEGi homegrown Diploma in Law.

In a world where degree providers are rapidly increasing, the University of London LLB offers the security of an internationally recognised ‘gold standard’ established for over 100 years. The University of London was the first to offer a degree in English Law, in the 1890s. Upon graduation students will join a distinguished group of solicitors, barristers and judges around the world who began their careers by obtaining their law degree through the University of London International Programmes.

The Law programmes available at SEGi are ideal for students who wish to obtain a qualification of international standing en route to a successful career as a practising lawyer. The programmes aim to promote independent learning, develop key intellectual transferable skills, develop critical awareness, and strengthen the students understanding into the language of law.

Why study this programme?
This qualification is specially designed for students with STPM, A-Level or equivalent qualifications and who would like a pathway to pursue an overseas law degree. Upon successful completion of the Bachelor of Law, students who want to practice law in Malaysia will need to obtain Certificate of Legal Practice (CLP) in Malaysia to qualify as a lawyer.
The A-Level qualification places emphasis on in-depth knowledge, deep understanding, strong reasoning abilities and critical thinking. It is arguably the most widely recognised pre-university qualification in the world, readily accepted as proof of superior academic ability for entry into world-class universities around the world.

The curriculum provides a firm bedrock of fundamental knowledge by guaranteeing comprehensive coverage in the breadth and depth of each subject offered. Students are assessed for their mastery of subject matter, their application of knowledge and understanding to everyday scenarios and their ability to think critically in unfamiliar situations.
